Remember: scouting is a family supported adventure. Every family is expected to do their share with packing and delivery. This event raises money for the whole Troop to alleviate costs of campsites at campouts, supplies, badges, equipment and travel to campouts. If you can't help with this delivery it is probable that you will have to pay extra for the campouts. The packing of books can be an exciting social evening/weekend for you and your family!

Important Note: For experienced phone book crew...This year's location is in the same 'building' that we have used in the past, but in a different unit, so please look for us when you get there!
